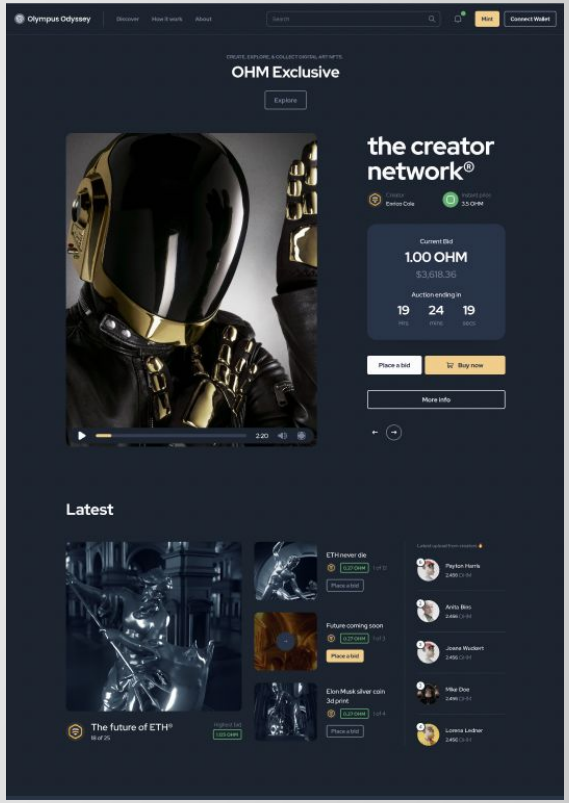
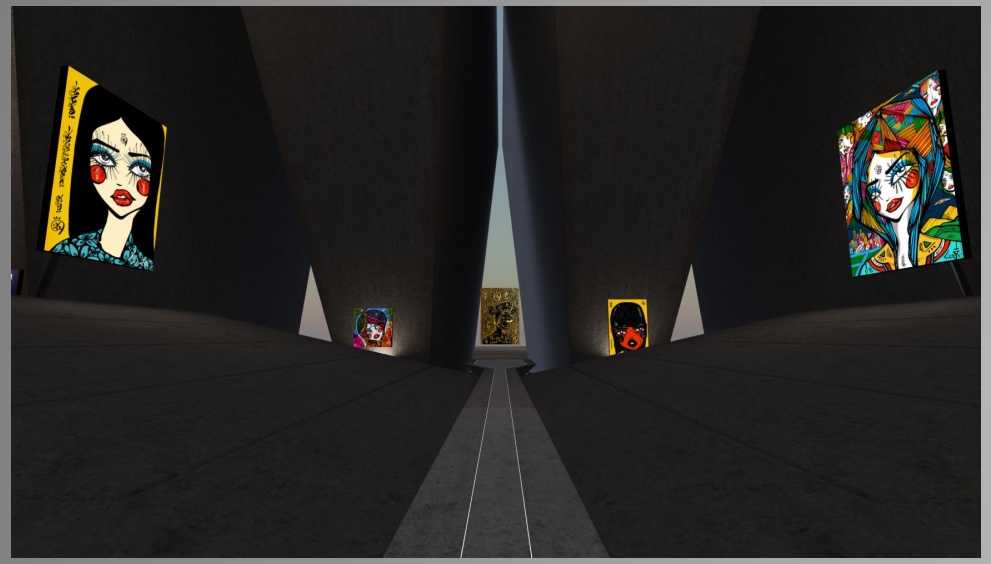
The DD Genesis Collection

What a journey, call it an Odyssey, in any case, LiveTheLifeTV stumbled upon ancient statues that are a part of mythology. Dimitri Daniloff also fell in love with the sculptures. Serendipity came into play. Frenship was born. Archaeologists invited them and the rest is history.

These NFT's by Dimitri Daniloff combine elements of historic value, heritage, and next-gen computation and technology. They explore the tension between the ancient world and its simulated counterpart—between organic and inorganic, digital and analog. Some of the brands that bought his work so far: Absolut Vodka, Air France, Audi, Carlsberg, Land Rover, LG, Longchamp, Nike, Sony Playstation, etc

If OlympusDAO is New York City, Odyssey Olympus is the MoMa. It attracts people to the world's best city and curates the finest artists who represent the quality of Olympus culture. We aim to spotlight upcoming artists and give them an incentive to want to work within our vibe





A marketplace is where you buy & sell, not where you experience your NFTs. “Oncyber” is the ultimate UX and so it's only logical that we're buidling on top of them. You want the Art Gallery, The Auction House Experience. Not another eBay / Amazon for NFTs. Not a web2 like OpenSea.

The collector, the artist, and the community needs to be winning based on the contribution of time or funds #web3

Imagine turning illiquid jpegs into liquid jpegs. Imagine DeFi merged with NFTs. Imagine merging social with commerce. Imagine native L2. Imagine being focused on using OHM as the currency. welcohm to the econohmy.
